Geographically largest global Executive Search group full-bodiedly in Slovakia

Jenewein & Partners has become AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search

In mid-June the consulting company Jenewein & Partners has become AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search. “Due to its membership in the geographically largest executive search group in the world – The Amrop Hever Group (TAHG), Jenewein & Partners has become a strategic global office that handles international business transactions and therefore its former brand name has no longer been sufficiently apt in this situation,” said Mr Martin Novotný, Senior Partner and Co-Founder of Jenewein & Partners.

The company has become leader in Central and Eastern European region thanks to the dynamic economic growth that Slovakia has been experiencing already for few years and also thanks to being open, active and initiative as well having courageous business plans. “Introducing global brand means meeting expectation of our business partners. It is also a proof of our permanent and uncompromising dedication to the highest quality, international standards and highest ethical principles in providing tailor-made consulting solutions,” adds Mr Martin Krekáč, Senior Partner and Co-Founder of Jenewein & Partners.

The portfolio of services within AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search is still focused on three core consulting areas: Executive Search, Board Advisory and Management Audit enriched by diversified Human Capital solutions linked to the core business.

AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search is governed by the board consisting of company owners – Mr Martin Krekáč, Mr Martin Novotný and Mr Radomír Mako, until recently Managing Partner of Jenewein & Partners who is in the course of rebranding becoming equal Senior Partner and Co-Owner of the company. “We take advantage of the rebranding also on redefining internal structure within company and on personnel strengthening of the company. Within organizational structure we build two equal professional teams – team of managers and consultants and strong team of researchers and analysts. Right under board level we have also created a new Business Innovation Practice (BIP) which acts as group’s Business and Innovation Incubator headed by Chief Business Officer with the task to strengthen our market share in all relevant segments through launching and coordination of innovative solutions and new business opportunities,” said Mr Radomír Mako.

The Board at the general assembly has appointed former Partner of Jenewein & Partners, Mr Igor Šulík to the position of Managing Partner. “With the new brand our business partners have the chance to make use of the extensive thirty-year experience of global leader that is present in 51 countries and for whom some 800 professionals work. Through the cooperation with a leader in the Slovak market and thanks to its transformation they also gain simple access to the globally fastest growing markets of the Central and Eastern European region. The change of the brand from Jenewein & Partners to AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search then means much more than just rebranding,” added Mr Igor Šulík, new Managing Partner of AMROP HEVER Slovakia – Global Executive Search.
